

Revolutionary digital currency on blockchain base

Overview

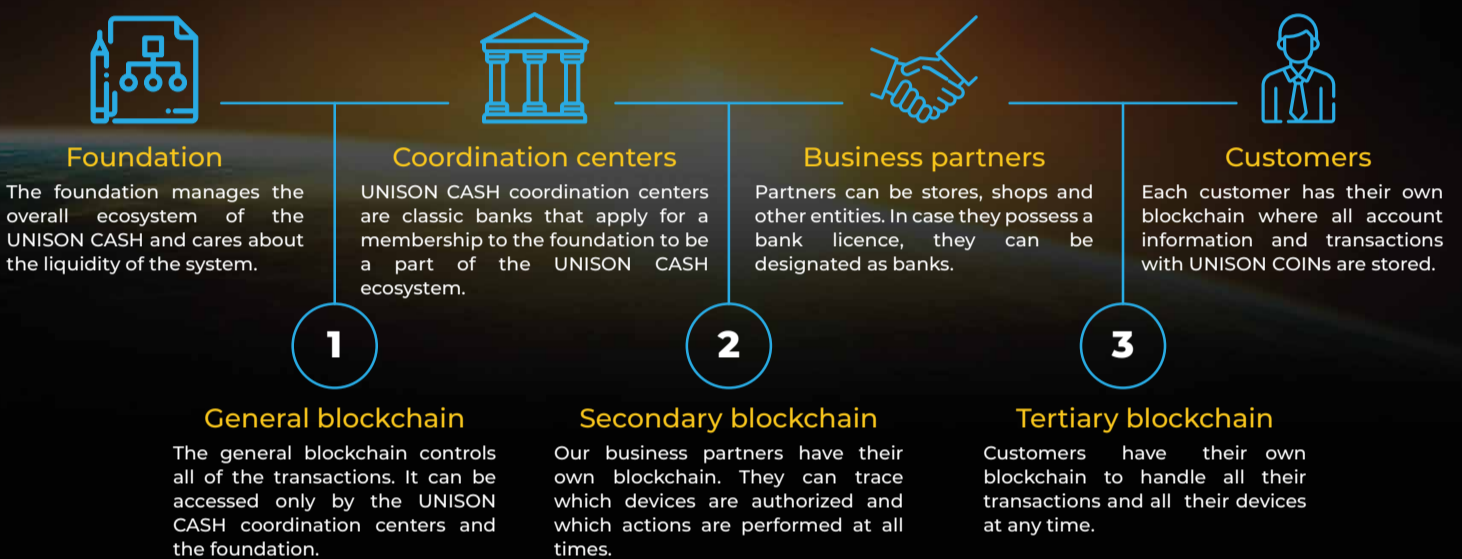

UNISON CASH is a new digital crypto currency based on our own blockchain architecture and secured by real estate, our own resorts, farms, participations, precious metals and other investments in sustainable assets, similar to a pension fund. Our primary goals are stability and sustainability while guaranteeing rapidness and ease of use on a global level at the point of sale. Users only need a smart phone with internet access and there is no bank account required.

UNISON CASH enables unlimited, fast and secure transactions while providing detailed information about the transactions to the users. Our digital currency is managed mainly by the governing board of the foundation and consulted by experts. The possibility of democratic co-decisions by the users is integrated.

UNISON CASH has decided on a sustainable process of generating new coins. They can only be generated when real assets of equal value and audited by experts are bought by the foundation for that purpose.

The ultimate goal of UNISON CASH is to create a currency that is sustainable in the long term with stable and constantly increasing intrinsic value. We want to provide our users with protection against inflation and loss of purchasing power.

The UNISON CASH ecosystem

The advantages of UNISON CASH

Backed by real assets

UNISON CASH is backed by diversified real assets such as gold, real estate and others to be protected against uncontrolled inflation.

Decentralized system

The system is controlled and managed mainly by the governing board of the foundation to ensure that the first global currency becomes reality.

New technology

The use of blockchain technology allows immediate transactions within seconds for nearly no costs at all.

Wide acceptance

We have been working tirelessly to ensure the acceptance of Unison Cash by a wide range of product and service providers.
